

- How did the layout change between mobile and desktop?

In my design I specifically made some elements to be hidden. You can clearly notice how things change color and change text. The trick there is I have 2 duplicate views but with different color and text.

- Why do you think starting from mobile is a good design strategy?

In my opinion, having to work on mobile first allows us to prioritize smaller screens because those displays can't go larger anymore. Because there's much less to worry about when adapting to bigger screens.
